Our 1910 summer prices on Anthracite coal will become effective Monday, May 2nd, 1910.
There has never been a time in the history of our business when we felt that we were able to give better values in Anthracite coal than we can this season, as we have completed our arrangements to secure our entire supply from two or three of the very best collieries in the Anthracite region, and will have a coal which is uniform in quality, well prepared, and coal that will give far better results than the average.
It is our desire to give our trade the best values that can be had, and we earnestly solicit the orders of our friends and customers.

These are actual facts and there is a reason. The very fact that Overlands are hard to get proves their value all the more, and they are well worth waiting for. Give us the "wink" and we will try to get one for you.

AWFUL PAINS FULLY DESCRIBED

A Lady of Pizarro Tells Story of Awful Suffering That Cardui Finally Relieved.

Pizarro, Va.—"I suffered for several years," writes Mrs. Dorna A. Smith, "with that awful backache and the bearing down sensations, so fully described in your book."

"I tried doctors and other medicines and found little relief, until I was induced to try Wine of Cardui, when I found instant relief and today I can heartily recommend Cardui to all suffering women and think there is no other as good."

In some instances, Cardui gives instant relief; in others, it may take a little time. But in all cases of female trouble Cardui can be depended on to be of benefit, as it is a specific remedy for women and acts in a curative way on the womanly organs.

As a general tonic for women, to build up your strength, improve your appetite, bring back rosy cheeks and make you look and feel young and happy, nothing you can find will do so much for you as Cardui.

Your druggist has it.
N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Wife Electioneered for Husband.
Paris, May 13.—The political cleverness of the Marquis de Chambrun, sister of Nicholas Longworth, ex-President Roosevelt's son-in-law, is responsible for the recent election of her husband to the French Chamber of Deputies according to a story that the marquis today permitted to leak out.

The marquis represents Lorraine, the poorest constituency in the Basse Alsace district, with the exception of that formerly represented by the Count de Castellane. The marquis is rather fine fibred, and the recent campaign proved distasteful to him because of the introduction of American campaign methods in Lorraine, kissing babies, hand-shaking and "jollyng."

The marquis refused to adopt these tactics and was about in despair, when his wife with a fine flash of the Ohio brand of political sagacity, went among the voters and their families, praised and kissed the babies "chained" with the peasants and otherwise made the marquis solid. He won by an increased vote.

Lawyer Sentenced.
New York, May 13.—Having pleaded guilty to an indictment charging forgery, Henry A. Doellinger, a lawyer, arrested in Philadelphia on April 2, where he was known as William A. Bush, was sentenced by Judge Olin today to not less than one nor more than two years in Sing Sing prison. In 1907 Doellinger induced his wife and daughter to sign and swear to a forged deed which he hypothesized for $3,000. He then fled the city going to Seattle and Portland. Detectives traced him there, but he evaded them and went to Philadelphia where he was captured while in a moving picture establishment. He denied his identity and fought extradition but when finally brought back here admitted his guilt.

MADE TO STAND ON BOILER.

Accused of cruelly beating Richard Hulse, electrician on the German steamer Amelia, Wilhelm Wortelboer, second officer on the steamer, will be arrested by government agents on the arrival of the vessel at New York, to which port she is now bound. Hulse, who was taken off the ship at Norfolk and sent to a local hospital, declares Wortelboer beat him until he fainted and then compelled him to climb to the top of a hot boiler and make fast a rubber belt. Hulse says Wortelboer compelled him to take off his clothes, and he beat him until he dropped in his tracks on the deck. Hulse's body shows the effects of his terrible beating, and had he made his statement before the ship sailed Wortelboer would have been arrested in Norfolk. The Amelia went to Norfolk for bunker coal and will take on a cargo at New York.

John D. Rockefeller would go broke if he should spend his entire income trying to prepare a better medicine than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is simply impossible, and so says every one that has used it. Sold by W. F. Orelington & Co. and Richard Gibson.

What a Poet Writes.
"You never can tell whether poetry is loaded or not," said a Columbia professor descending upon the muse, "and what a poet writes in the moments of his fine frenzy rolling may be susceptible of changes which would make him curse the pen did he but know whence it pointed. Now, listen to this couplet:
"Help us to save free conscience from the paw
Of hireling wolves whose gospel is their maw."
"It sounds like some kind of a family poem, doesn't it, with paw and maw coming in to make the rhyme? Do you imagine the poet when he wrote the lines ever thought of the parents represented in such a homely way and how the meaning of the whole thing could be changed by changing the meaning of the end words of two lines? Was he a beginner? Oh, no; he was not a beginner. He had written several very classy things. He was John Milton. You remember he wrote 'Paradise Lost' and two or three other pieces of considerable merit, though he never quite got into the 'six best sellers' list, and these two lines I have quoted close his sonnet to Lord Protector Cromwell, written in 1652."—New York Herald.

The Southerner and Corn.
The southerner feeds himself, his pigs and his progeny upon corn. He slept in his frontiersman's cabin upon a mattress made of the husks. Today he contributes some of its plith to the manufacture of gun cotton with which to blow the enemy to Beelzebub and some more of it to the manufacture of cellulose to pack behind the armor of his country's battleships to prevent them from sinking when projectiles pierce their plates. He plants corn as early in the springtime as the season will permit and gets up at dawn to go into the fields and tickle its spreading roots with a double shovel plow. In midwinter he smokes his corncob pipe before a corncob fire. Looking into a bed of glowing embers through a blue haze of the smoke of incense burned to Mondamin, he returns thanks for the cornmeal in the cupboard and dreams happily of the "ros'n ear" of the golden summer to come. His appreciation of the value of Indian corn is high. His affection for it in its various forms is abiding.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Argyll and Longfellow.
The great Duke of Argyll was visiting his son, then governor general of Canada, and met Longfellow in the American poet's ancient colonial mansion at Cambridge, Mass. As they sat together on the veranda the duke persistently asked the names of the various birds he saw and heard singing in the poet's trees as well as of the flowers and bushes growing in his extensive and beautiful garden. Longfellow was neither botanist nor ornithologist and did not know.
"I was surprised to find your Longfellow such an ignorant person," said the duke subsequently to an American acquaintance.
"Indeed! Pray, on what subject?"
"Why, he could not tell me the names of the birds and flowers to be heard and seen in his own garden."
"May I ask how many languages you speak?" the American asked.
"Certainly—but one."
"Mr. Longfellow," was the answer, "speaks six and translates freely from almost all the languages of Europe."

Rise of Russia.
In the history of Europe down to the middle of the eighteenth century Russia is a blank. The foundation of the kingdom was laid by Rurik the Norseman in the ninth century. In the tenth century the Russians were Christianized, adopting the Greek form of Christianity. In the thirteenth century the Russians were completely overrun by the Tartars under Genghis Khan. From the Tartars Russia was delivered by Ivan, who became czar in the time of Elizabeth. It was Peter the Great (1672-1725) who gave Russia for the first time a place in the states system of Europe.—New York American.

The Mistletoe.
The mistletoe is a Druidical contribution to Christmas. It was held in great veneration by the Druids in ancient England, and the cutting of it was attended by sacrificing and feasting. With weird incantations the priest climbed the tree on which the mistletoe grew and cut it away with a knife of purest gold, no base metal being allowed to touch it. As the twigs fell they were received below in a mantle of spotless whiteness.

Modest Greatness.
Reporter-Senator, to what do you chiefly attribute your successful career? Eminent Statesman—Entirely to heredity, young man. I deserve no credit for it whatever. My father had ambition, and my mother had talent, and I happened to inherit both those qualifications.—Chicago Tribune.

From Experience.
Mrs. Enpeck—I learned today that Bob Smith and Mary Jones were secretly married ten months ago. Just think of it! Married nearly a year and nobody the wiser! Mr. Enpeck—Oh, I don't know! I'll bet Smith was a whole lot wiser before he had been married a month.
